What's Happening?

Four teams have raised the NCAA Gymnastics Championships' team trophy in the meet's 31-year history. Top-seeded Florida (17-1, 5-1 SEC) will look to become the fifth at the 2012 NCAA Championships, set for April 20-22 in The Arena at Gwinnett Center in Duluth, Ga. This is the second consecutive year the event will be contested away from a campus site. The 2011 NCAA Championships held in the Wolstein Center in Cleveland, Ohio, was the first.

Florida has qualified for the NCAA Championships 30 times, missing only the 2000 event. The Gators advanced to the 2012 national stage by winning the Raleigh Regional, held April 7 at NC State. Florida enters as the championships' No. 1 seed. This is the second time in the team's 30 NCAA Championships appearances that it is the top seed, as UF shared the No. 1 seed with Utah in 2007.

The Gators advanced to the NCAA Super Six (team final) six of the last eight years. In Florida's last Super Six appearance in 2010, the Gators finished fifth. The NCAA Super Six format began in 1993 and Florida's advanced to the team final round nine times, recording its highest NCAA finish of second in 1998. Six of UF's NCAA Super Six appearances have come since Rhonda Faehn took over the Gator program for the 2003 season.

Super Six & Event Finals

The top three teams in each of Friday's sessions advance to the NCAA Super Six on Saturday, April 21 at 4 p.m. (ET). The winner of the Super Six is the NCAA team champion. UF advanced to the NCAA Super Six in 1994, 1997, 1998, 2004, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010, claiming its top finish of second in 1998. To advance to the NCAA Individual Event finals, competitors must place in the top four (including ties) in their session on Friday. The NCAA all-around champion will be determined Friday, April 20 in the team qualifying competition. A Gator has won NCAA individual titles on five occasions – Maria Anz (floor/1984), Betsy Hamm (beam/1998), Susan Hines (vault/1997, '98) and defending vault champion Marissa King (2011).

Who's in the Field?

There were no surprises among the 2012 NCAA Championships' field, as each of the top 12 seeded teams advanced from regional competition to the national site. The National Qualifying Score (NQS) determined the pairings for day one of the NCAA Championships' team competition. The NQS seeds the teams 1-12 by adding a team's regional qualifying score (RQS) and score from the regional meet. Teams 2, 3, 6, 7, 10 and 11 were placed in Friday's first semifinal and teams 1, 4, 5, 8, 9 and 12 placed in the second semifinal.

Florida has met seven of the teams qualified for the NCAA Championships – which shares the high number of previous 2012 meetings with Arkansas, Georgia and Oklahoma. UF owns a 2012 record of 10-1 versus the field.

Project Gator Leo

Using terminology familiar to fans of Lifetime Network's "Project Runway", the Gators are "In." Three of the leotards the Gators will wear this season were designed by team members. The freshmen class created the leo wore by the team in the home opener on Jan. 13. The junior class designed the leo wore in the Jan. 27 quad meet. The senior class leo was worn at the home finale on March 16.

2012 Notables...

- The Gators advanced to their 30th NCAA Championship after winning the Raleigh Regional with the nation's top total in regional action (197.325). Junior Ashanée Dickerson won the all-around title (39.65) - her third win of the season and second career region all-around win. A Gator claimed at least a share of every event title at the Raleigh Regional - vault (9.95 - Dickerson & Alaina Johnson), uneven bars (9.90 - Dickerson & Johnson), balance beam (9.925 - Marissa King) and floor exercise (9.95 - Kytra Hunter).
- Ranked No. 1 in the final six national rankings of the season. No. 3 in preseason GymInfo poll.
- Turned in three of the nation's top five team totals of 2012 - 197.90 (2nd), 197.85 (3rd), 197.775 (4th).
- Southeastern Conference team champion at 197.15. Eighth title for Florida program and third since 2007.
- Kytra Hunter claimed the league all-around (39.625) and vault (9.975) titles. First SEC all-around winner for UF since 1995 and first Gator freshman to win league all-around title since 1983.
- Sophomore Alaina Johnson picked up the SEC uneven bars title (9.925). Fifth league bars title for Gator program.
- Four on All-SEC teams - Mackenzie Caquatto (second team), Kytra Hunter (first), Alaina Johnson (first) and Marissa King (second).
- Hunter named SEC Freshman of the Year - third consecutive for UF and sixth such honor for the Gator program since the award began in 1991.
- Drew an attendance average of 6,200 - the third highest average in the program's history (record of 6,455 in 1989 and 6,358 is second/2008).

Smart Gators

As a team, the Gators turned in a cumulative grade point average of 3.32 in the spring of 2011 and a 3.35 in the fall of 2011.

In addition, the Gators return five this season who earned 2011 National Association of College Gymnastics Coaches (NACGC) Scholastic All-America honors - Nicole Ellis, Amy Ferguson, Alaina Johnson, Elizabeth Mahlich and Lauren Rose.

Florida placed nine on the 2012 Southeastern Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll - Mackenzie Caquatto, Ellis, Ferguson, Johnson, Marissa King, Dali Lemezán, Mahlich, Rose and Randy Stageberg.

Meet Coach Faehn

Rhonda Faehn, the 2007 National Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches Association Coach of the Year, is in her 10th season as the Gators' head coach in 2012. Since her arrival, Florida has reset every team event record plus set the team scoring record three times. In 2004, UF reached the NCAA Super Six team final for the first time since 1998, taking fifth overall. Florida has claimed three Southeastern Conference team titles since 2007 (2007, 2010, 2012). A school-record seven Gator gymnasts earned All-America honors in 2004 and again 2010. Florida has advanced to the NCAA Championships every season under Faehn's direction. Here's a summary of how the Gators have performed in NCAA action under Faehn.

Year	NCAA Finish	All-Americans
2003	7 th	4 with 6 honors
2004	5 th	7 with 12 honors
2005	7 th	1 with 1 honor
2006	4 th	4 with 6 honors
2007	3 rd	5 with 15 honors
2008	4 th	5 with 15 honors
2009	4 th	5 with 9 honors
2010	5 th	7 with 11 honors
2011	7 th	4 with 9 honors

Faehn shared the 2003 National Association Gymnastics Coaches SE Region Coach of the Year award and won the award outright in 2005, 2007, 2010 and 2011. She is a five-time recipient of the SEC Coach of the Year (2006, 2007, 2010, 2011, 2012).

A member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic Team and an All-American at UCLA, Faehn brought with her to UF nine years of experience coaching at the club and collegiate levels.

Faehn was an assistant coach at the University of Nebraska (1999-02) for three seasons before being elevated to Associate Head Coach in the fall of 2001. Four of the Huskers' five NCAA Super Six appearances were achieved with Faehn on the UN staff and during that time, the team twice posted Super Six finishes of fifth (2001 and '02) and took fourth at the 2000 event. Faehn was named the NACGC Assistant Coach of the Year in 2001. She also collected the South Central Assistant Coach of the Year honor in 2002 and shared the 2000 Region 3 Assistant Coach of the Year award.

Shading denotes teams in NCAA Championships' Semifinal II on April 15

A league record of five Southeastern Conference teams are among the NCAA Gymnastics Championships' field. The league record was set in 1993 and matched in 2003, 2006, 2008, 2009 and 2012. The five SEC teams are the most from any conference in the 2012 NCAA field as the Pac 12 is second with four (UCLA, Utah, Oregon State and Stanford). This also marks the 19th consecutive season the SEC has sent at least three teams to the NCAA Championships.

In addition to the team competition on Friday, each team will have an individual all-arounder compete at the end of each event lineup. These are gymnasts that were the top two all-arounders in their region meet who were not a part of a qualifying team. Junior Sharaya Musser of Penn State is the individual all-arounder who will compete with Florida.

The NCAA conducted a blind draw to set the start order for each of Friday's sessions. This is the sixth time that Florida starts NCAA Championships' competition on vault in its 30 appearances, with the last coming in 1999.

Florida received a Session II assignment for the 14th time since the NCAA adopted the Super Six team qualifying format in 1993. UF advanced to the NCAA Super Six five times (2010, 2006, 1998, 1997, 1994) from Session II and four times from Session I (2009, 2008, 2007, 2004).

This is the 13th meeting between Florida and Alabama in NCAA Semifinal competition. In the past 20 years of NCAA Team Qualifying competition, Florida has appeared in the same session as Oregon State 11 times, Georgia eight times and Arkansas three times.

2011 NCAA Vault Champion Marissa King Back

The four 2011 NCAA apparatus champions are back this season, including Florida's junior All-American Marissa King who claimed the 2011 NCAA vault champion with her winning average of 9.875. King, the only competitor in the 2011 NCAA vault competition performing Tsukahara vaults, earned a 9.90 for her Tsukahara 1 ½ and a 9.85 for her Tsukahara full.

Her margin of 0.05 over the runner-up was the largest since 1998 NCAA vault final when Susan Hines (UF's last NCAA vault champion) shared the title with Stanford's Larissa Fontaine with a margin of 0.0625 over third place.

King is the fourth Gator to claim a NCAA Individual Event title. Florida's list of NCAA Event champions include:

Name	Event	Year
Maria Anz	Floor Exercise	1984
Betsy Hamm	Balance Beam	1998
Susan Hines	Vault	1997, 1998
Marissa King	Vault	2011

The other defending NCAA apparatus champions are Georgia's Kat Ding (uneven bars), UCLA's Sam Peszek (balance beam) and Alabama's Geralen Stack-Eaton (floor exercise). The only event champion not back to defend her title is Michigan's Kylee Botterman, who won the 2011 NCAA all-around title as a senior.

Florida Quick Hits

► Five of the nation's top 15 team scores of 2012 belong to the Gators – 197.90 (2nd), 197.85 (3rd), 197.775 (4th), 197.525 (13th) and 197.500 (14th). No other school with a score among the top 15 is represented more than three times.

► Florida upped the program's total of NCAA Regional titles to an even dozen with its total of 197.325 at the Raleigh Regional. A Gator took at least a share of each event title, including Ashanée Dickerson using her season best of 39.65 to take her third all-around win of the season.

► Florida claimed the program's eighth Southeastern Conference team title and the second of the last three years on March 24 with a 197.15. In addition, freshman Kytra Hunter won the all-around (39.625) and vault (9.975) titles and sophomore Alaina Johnson claimed the top spot in uneven bars (9.925).

► Florida leads the nation with four among the March 26 national all-around rankings – No. 5 Alaina Johnson, No. 9 Kytra Hunter, No. 12 Ashanée Dickerson and No. 17 Marissa King. The quartet has picked up a total of 10 all-around wins in Florida's 12 meets of the season – Hunter (5), Dickerson (3) and Johnson (2).

► The season-high all-around total for each Gator places them among the nation's top 20 – No. T-3 Kytra Hunter/39.675, No. T-3 Alaina Johnson/39.675, No. T-7 Ashanée Dickerson and Marissa King/39.65.

► Sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto joins Nebraska freshman Jessie DeZiel as the only two members of the current 20-member U.S. Senior National Team who are also competing as a collegiate in 2012.

NCAA Raleigh Regional Recap

Florida raised its total of NCAA Regional titles to 12 with its win at the Raleigh Regional. Florida's total of 197.325 led each of the nation's six regional sites and helped earn the Gators' the top seed for the NCAA Championships. This is the second time in the team's 30 NCAA Championships appearances that it is the top seed, as UF shared the No. 1 seed with Utah in 2007.

Ashanée Dickerson won the all-around with the nation's top total in 2012 regional competition, 39.65, which also stands as her season best. It was the second regional all-around win for Dickerson, as she won the 2010 NCAA North Central Regional with her collegiate-best total of 39.70.

A Gator picked up at least a share of each apparatus title. Dickerson and Alaina Johnson shared both the vault (9.95) and uneven bars title (9.90). Their vault mark equals their collegiate-best for the fifth time for each gymnast. Marissa King used her sixth mark of 9.925 or better this season to take the balance beam win (9.925) and Kytra Hunter used a 9.95 to take her seventh floor exercise title. She has turned in a 9.95 or better on floor five times this season.

Podium Back for NCAA Championships

The NCAA Gymnastics Championships competition will again be on podium in 2012. The podium, which raises the competitive apparatus above floor level, is often used for national and international championship competitions. It provides the audience with a clear view of the competing gymnast.

The 2004 NCAA Championships in Los Angeles were the first collegiate championships held on podium. A podium was again used at the 2005 (Auburn, Ala.), 2008 (Athens, Ga.), 2010 (Gainesville, Fla.) and 2011 (Cleveland, Ohio) events. The arenas used in 2006 (Oregon State's Gill Coliseum), 2007 (University of Utah's Huntsman Center) and 2009 (Nebraska's Bob Devaney Sports Center) could not accommodate the podium. The past seven Southeastern Conference Championships have been on podium.

Southeastern Conference Champions

Florida earned the 2012 Southeastern Conference team title - its eighth overall and second of the last three years. The Gators turned in a 197.15 in Duluth, Ga., to take the win. Some notes about the Gators' performance:

- Florida owns eight Southeastern Conference team titles – 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1989, 2007, 2010 & 2012.
- Kytra Hunter won all-around – first Gator to win all-around since Kristen Guise in 1995. First Gator freshman to win all-around since Elfi Schlegel in 1983. First freshman since Georgia's Katie Heenan in 2005 to take title. .
- Florida's vault total of 49.525 is UF's third-highest of 2012 and its highest ever of any event in SEC competition .
- Hunter's 9.975 on vault is a collegiate-best. She is the sixth different Gator to earn the nearly perfect mark. She is the first vault champion for UF since Ashley Reed shared the 2008 title and sixth in school history.
- Alaina Johnson's 9.925 wins SEC bars – first Gator to win bars since Melanie Sinclair shared 2008 title and fifth in the program's history.
- Rhonda Faehn is SEC Co-Coach of the Year. She has been named SEC Coach of the Year five of her 10 seasons with the Gators (2006, 2007, 2010, 2011, 2012).
- The SEC Freshman of the Year goes to a Gator for the third consecutive year – Kytra Hunter (2012), Alaina Johnson (2011), Ashanee Dickerson (2010).
- Florida is the first team since Georgia in 1994 to win SEC team title opening meet on the balance beam.
- Florida turned in the meet's top team totals on vault (49.525), bars (49.375) and shared the beam high (49.05) with Georgia.

Four on All-SEC Teams

A league-high four University of Florida gymnasts appear on 2012 All-Southeastern Conference teams.

Name	SEC Finish	SEC Team

Pair of 39.675 All-Around Totals Place Gator Duo Among Nation's All-Around Leaders

The total of 39.675 leads the Gators' all-arounders for each of the last two seasons.

Last year, then freshman Alaina Johnson turned in the total to take the all-around win at Georgia. This season, freshman Kytra Hunter used the same total to claim her fourth all-around win on Feb. 24 versus Georgia. Johnson equaled her collegiate-best all-around total versus Utah on March 16 to take her second win of 2012.

The 39.675 also ranks among the nation's leaders for both seasons. Johnson's collegiate-best total was the nation's second-best of 2011. The 39.675 places Hunter and Johnson No. 3 among the nation's 2012 all-arounders. The 39.675 earned both Hunter and Johnson Southeastern Conference Gymnast of the Week honors.

Trio of 39.625+ All-Arounders Nation's First in a Single Meet since 2004

A trio of Gator All-Americans swept the all-around in the March 16 Utah dual meet – all with all-around totals of 39.625 or above.

Sophomore Alaina Johnson took the win by matching her collegiate-best of 39.675, which also equals the Gators' season-best. Junior Marissa King set her collegiate-best of 39.65 to take second and fellow junior Ashaneé Dickerson was third at 39.625.

A trio of gymnasts have turned in all-around totals of 39.625 or above in a single meet six times since 1997. It last happened in the 2004 season, with Stanford achieving it Feb. 20 and March 20. Washington also had three all-arounders pass the threshold on March 12, 2004.

Three Consecutive SEC Freshman of the Year Awards for the Gators

Kytra Hunter is the latest Gator to pick up the Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Year. She received the honor at the SEC Championships' awards ceremony on March 24 in Duluth, Ga.

She is the third consecutive and sixth Gator overall to receive the honor since it began in 1991. Hunter joins current teammates Ashaneé Dickerson (2010) and Alaina Johnson (2011) as recipients of the honor.

Florida is the first in league history to have a gymnast named to the award for three consecutive years. CollegeGymFans.com has named Florida's recruiting class No. 1 each of the last three seasons.

Kytra Hunter SEC Freshman of the Year

Kytra Hunter, the 2012 Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Year, has opened her Gator career with scores and performances that are making an impact on the team's record book:

- ▶ Won Southeastern Conference all-around (39.625) and vault (9.975) titles to earn spot on All-SEC first team. First Gator to claim league all-around title since Kristen Guise in 1995 and one of three Florida freshmen to win SEC all-around (Lynn McDonnell/1981 and Elfi Schlegel/1983). First freshman in league since Georgia's Katie Heenan in 2005 to win all-around.
- ▶ Only Gator freshman to earn a 9.975 on floor and the fifth in school history. Joins two-time NCAA vault champion Susan Hines (1996-99) as the only freshmen to earn the near-perfect mark on vault.
- ▶ Earned SEC Gymnast of the Week after winning Georgia all-around at 39.675. Only freshman in league to earn SEC Gymnast of the Week honors in 2012. Also picked up three SEC Freshman of the Week honors.
- ▶ Leads Florida with marks of 9.975 for both vault and floor exercise. Shared Gators' season-high all-around total of 39.675, which also stands as the nation's second-highest turned in this season. Her 19 event titles in 2012 leads the Gators.

Trio of Gators Pick Up SEC Honors

A Gator was honored by the Southeastern Conference in six of the possible 11 weeks that the league presented weekly honors. The Gators last two honorees - freshman Kytra Hunter and sophomore Alaina Johnson – both picked up the SEC Gymnast of the Week after posting the team's season-best all-around totals of 39.675. Hunter also has picked up three SEC Freshman of the Week accolades. She is the only league gymnast to pick up both the SEC Gymnast and Freshman of the Week honors this season.

Johnson picked up her first SEC Gymnast of the Week honor on Feb. 21. She is one of only two to repeat as SEC Gymnast of the Week in 2012. Junior All-American Ashaneé Dickerson claimed the third SEC Gymnast of the Week honor of her career on Jan. 31.

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Johnson SEC Bars Champion

Sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson collected her first Southeastern Conference event title at the league championship, taking the uneven bars win at 9.925. She improved on her runner-up finish on the event at the 2011 event.

She also shared the NCAA Raleigh Regional vault and uneven bars titles with teammate Ashanée Dickerson.

Johnson leads the Gators on the event with six uneven bars titles this season and she already owns 12 for her career.

She is second among the 2012 Gators with 14 event titles. In addition to the six bar wins, Johnson has earned event wins for vault (5), all-around (2) and balance beam (1).

Johnson leads Florida's four all-arounders who appear in the latest top-25 national rankings, holding the No. 5 position with her regional qualifying score of 39.457. She is also ranked No. T-5 for bars (9.905 RQS), No. T-15 for vault (9.910) and No. T-20 beam (9.875 RQS).

Two of the Gators' top 2012 marks for a pair of events are shared by Johnson – all-around (39.675) and bars (9.95).

58 Career Event Wins for Ashanée Dickerson

The 13 event titles claimed by All-American Ashanée Dickerson this season moves her into fifth on the Gators Career Event titles chart. Her all-around, vault and bar wins at the Raleigh Regional on April 7 advanced her into sole position for fifth on the chart.

She's led the Gators the last two years with 23 event wins as a freshman and 22 as a sophomore. This year, she's added all-around, vault, bars, beam and floor wins to bring her current total to 58 event titles.

Marissa King Turns in Collegiate Beam Best 3x

Junior All-American Marissa King has turned in her collegiate best for the balance beam three times in the last nine meets. King set her current best of 9.95 to take the Jan. 27 quad meet win. She equaled that mark again at the Feb. 17 Auburn dual and the Feb. 24 Georgia dual meets. She's won a total of eight beam titles this season, including a stretch of four consecutive. Her latest title came at the NCAA Raleigh Regional with her beam mark of 9.925.

King entered the season with a collegiate beam best of 9.90 set during her freshman season. A heel bruise hampered her training on the event for the 2011 season. With the injury behind her, she has been able to put in the numbers during training this season. She has twice upped her collegiate beam best this season as she posted a 9.925 to win the Jan. 13 dual.

She has picked up eight beam wins as a junior, bringing her career total of beam wins to 10. She has turned in a beam mark of 9.925 or above in seven of her 12 beam performances of 2012.

Caquatto Hits Collegiate Bars Best

In just her second outing of 2012, sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto equaled her collegiate-best of 9.95 to claim her first uneven bars title of 2012. She used a 9.90 to claim at least a share of the next three uneven bars wins to up her career total to 10 bar wins.

A bar mark of 9.90 in the Southeastern Conference Championships tied her for second overall and earned Caquatto a spot on the All-SEC second team.

Caquatto earned her fourth consecutive spot on the U.S. Senior National Team last August with her fourth-place all-around finish in the Visa Championships. She was invited to the U.S. National Team camps to vie for her second consecutive spot on the U.S.'s World Championships roster. Caquatto attended all the camps and in the final camp in late September, sprained both ankles dismounting balance beam. The injured ankles kept her out of training for several weeks.

As a freshman in 2010, Caquatto picked up 10 event titles (six bars, three beam and one all-around). She shared the nation's highest balance beam mark of 2011 with teammate Ashanée Dickerson with her 9.975 set at the West Virginia quad meet.

Jan. 16 – Feb. 20th Ranking by Total Season Average

Beginning Feb. 27 -Ranking by Regional Qualifying Score (consists of a team's three highest road scores and the next three highest scores. The high score is subtracted from the six event total and the remaining amount is divided by five). Teams listed above are by national qualifying score (region team score + RQS).

Caquatto on Senior National Team

Sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto earned her fourth consecutive spot on the U.S. Senior National Team in August with her fourth-place finish in the 2011 Visa Championships' all-around. Caquatto also was the Visa Championships' uneven bars runner-up with her two-session total of 29.70. Caquatto enrolled at Florida for the spring 2011 semester after competing for the U.S.'s silver medal team at the 2010 World Championships held in Rotterdam, Netherlands in October.

As a freshman for the Gators in 2011, Caquatto posted the highest all-around total ever (39.575) for a Gator making all-around debut to take the title in the Alabama dual. She claimed a total of 10 event titles (six bars, three beam and one all-around) in 2011. She is one of two gymnasts on the 20-member U.S. Senior National team (Jessie DeZiel of Nebraska is other) who will compete in 2012 NCAA competition.

Two other members of the 2011-12 U.S. Senior National Team will be joining the Gators for the 2013 season. Bridget Sloan, the 2009 World all-around champion and Bridgette "Bridgey" Sloan, 2011 Pan America Games all-around champion and younger sister of Mackenzie, have both signed national letters of intent with Florida.

Additions for 2013 Season

Three notable gymnasts signed with Florida for the 2013 season.

Bridgette Caquatto (Naperville, Ill.), younger sister of Gator sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto, picked up three gold medals at the 2011 Pan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico, as she won the all-around and uneven bars plus was part of the U.S.'s winning team. She is a member of the current U.S. Senior National team and will look to contend for a spot on the five-member U.S. roster for the 2012 Summer Olympics.

Bianca Dancose-Giambattisto (Chateaugay, Quebec, Canada) also has been a part of a successful team at the Pan American Games, as she was a member of Canada's 2010 silver team squad. She also competed at that year's World Championships in Rotterdam, Netherlands. Dancose-Giambattisto took the uneven bars title at the 2011 Canadian Championships, where she also took third in the all-around.

Bridget Sloan (Pittsboro, Ind.), the 2009 World Championships all-around champion, signed a national letter of intent with Florida in April of 2011, but deferred enrollment until fall of 2012 as she pursues her second consecutive spot on the U.S. Olympic team. She was part of the U.S. silver medal teams at the 2008 Olympics and the 2010 World Championships. This past fall, she joined UF signee Bridget Caquatto on the U.S.'s gold medal team at the Pan America Games.

* - All-America first & second teams began in 1993

Year 40 for Gator Gymnastics

The 2011-12 season is the 40th for the University of Florida women's golf, gymnastics, swimming & diving, tennis and track & field varsity programs. In the spring of 1971, official approval of an intercollegiate athletic program for women was received, with 1972-73 being the first season.

The first meet for the varsity gymnastics team came on Jan. 12, 1973 with a dual meet loss to Georgia. Friday's NCAA semifinal appearance will be the 488th meet in the program's history.

During the program's previous 39 years, Florida claimed the 1982 AIAW National team title and 15 regional titles (11 NCAA, 4 AIAW). The Gators earned their eighth Southeastern Conference team title on March 24, 2012. Six gymnasts have claimed a total of nine individual national titles (5 NCAA, 4 AIAW) and 46 Gators have earned a total of 174 (165 NCAA, 9 AIAW) All-America honors.

Gators Practice Facility Expansion Starts in April

Making their high flying gymnastics look easy takes many hours in the training gym. Next season, the Gators will be practicing their amazing skills in their renovated practice studio.

Construction is scheduled to begin immediately after spring graduation and should be complete by the end of the calendar year. The north wall of the Stephen C. O'Connell Center will be pushed out to give the team an additional 6,700 square feet, bringing the facility to more than 18,500 square feet.

For more information about the expansion, visit Scott Carter's story on Gatorzone.com.

Building a Crowd

The Florida program continues to build their fan base. Since the arrival of Head Coach Rhonda Faehn for the 2003 season, UF has doubled its average attendance since her first campaign. A record crowd of 10,855 were on hand for the dual between No. 1 Florida and No. 2 Georgia on Jan. 18, 2008. That crowd broke the Stephen C. O'Connell Center record for gymnastics attendance set in 1989 versus Alabama (10,651).

In 2008, Florida averaged 6,358 per meet – second only to the 1989 Gator team's attendance average of 6,455. Florida has ranked No. 4 in the nation in attendance average each season since 2006.

Florida's attendance average of 6,200 in 2012 is the third-highest in the program's 40-year history.

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Meet 1

No. 3 Florida at North Carolina State

Jan. 7, 2012

Reynolds Coliseum /Raleigh, N.C.

The preseason No. 3 Florida gymnastics team (1-0, 0-0 SEC) opened the 2012 season Friday with a 196.025-194.675 win at North Carolina State (0-1, 0-0 EAGL). The Gators claimed at least a share of four of the evening's five event titles, including freshman Kytra Hunter taking the all-around win.

Of the 2,512 in attendance Friday at the Reynolds Coliseum, more than 60 were from the Triangle Gator Club so the team saw some orange & blue as they performed in the season's first meet.

It was the 2012 opener for both teams so the minor mistakes that appeared in the routines for the teams were expected. And Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn saw no red flags in the Gators' performances.

"I think they did a great job. They did exactly what we were looking for. We want to start out a lot slower this year which is a little bit different strategy than last year. We wanted to compete a lot of different athletes tonight. Our freshmen did a really great job and were able to get their feet wet. We were able to rest some of upperclassmen," Faehn said. "Overall, I was very pleased with their performance. It's a starting point. We are working to pace our athletes so that we can peak at the end of the year."

Hunter was one of four Gator freshmen making their collegiate debut tonight and she took home a pair of event titles - all-around (39.30) and floor exercise (9.90). She is now the fourth Gator in the last 25 years to win the all-around in Florida's season opener. All four of those winners have come since Faehn took over the Gator program for the 2003 season.

"I'm really proud of Kytra. She has a tremendous work ethic and is all business. It was really fun to see her get out there tonight and love performing," Faehn said.

For Hunter, a member of the 2009-10 and 2010-11 U.S. Senior National Teams, tonight was a chance to get a feel for the collegiate stage.

"As a freshman, I just wanted to have fun and get my nerves out. It was a great outcome and I'm proud of it," Hunter said. "I know that I need to go back into the gym and work on the little things I messed up here."

Gator event winners Friday included sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson, who claimed her sixth collegiate bars title with a 9.875. Johnson shared sixth in the 2011 NCAA uneven bars final. Two other Gators posted 9.80s on bars, as junior All-Americans Ashanée Dickerson and Marissa King shared second on the event.

That duo claimed a share of the evening's balance beam title with NC State's Jess Panza at 9.825. It was the ninth beam win for Dickerson and the third for King. NC State's Diahanna Ham just edged out Hunter and UF senior Nicole Ellis for the evening's vault title. Ham earned a 9.875 while the Gator pair shared second at 9.85.

King thought the meet went well for the Gators and gives the team definite points to work on in the upcoming training sessions.

"I think as a team we did really well, especially for the first meet of the season. We came here to have a starting point to go back to the gym with. These are the routines we've been practicing all through the preseason and now we had the chance to do them under the pressure of competition," King said. "Great job from the team."

Meet 2

No. 3 Florida vs Illinois-Chicago

Jan. 13, 2012

Stephen C. O'Connell Center/Gainesville, Fla.

Four different Gators picked up apparatus victories Friday, as the preseason No. 3 Florida gymnastics team (2-0, 0-0 SEC) opened the 2012 home season with a 196.175-191.875 win over Illinois-Chicago (1-0) in front of a Stephen C. O'Connell Center crowd of 4,796.

Last week in the Gators' season-opening win at North Carolina State, only freshman Kytra Hunter posted a mark of 9.90, which she used to pick up her first floor title. Tonight, each of the Gator event winners used marks of 9.90 or better to claim their event wins.

Florida opened the meet with solid team totals of 49.20 for both vault and uneven bars. Junior All-American Ashanée Dickerson pushed her collegiate total for vault wins to an even dozen with her season-best mark of 9.90. UF also received marks of 9.85 or better on the event from Nicole Ellis (9.85) and Hunter (9.875) as they rounded out the top three vault performances of the meet.

Sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson anchored the Gator lineup with her season-best of 9.90 to claim her second consecutive uneven bars title. Hunter was runner-up at 9.85, while Dickerson and Marissa King shared third at 9.825.

Florida used marks of 9.80 or better toward their balance beam total of 49.25 Friday. King was steady and solid in her anchor performance Friday, posting a collegiate-best 9.925 to take her second consecutive title on the event. Johnson and Dickerson shared second at 9.85.

A bruised heel kept King from showing the consistency she wanted on beam a year ago. Tonight, with the pressure of competing after a fall, King's performance showed the results of her hard work in the gym.

"I'm really, really pleased with my beam. I was disappointed last year because of my injury, which affected me on the beam. I really trained hard this preseason because I want to be in the beam lineup. I want to be consistent and I want the girls to trust me and have confidence in me to hit my routine. Today showed that," King said. "I'm really proud of myself for going out there and hitting that routine even with the pressure of having a fall before me."

Although it is only the second competition of the season, Florida's beam total of 49.25 Friday was bettered only three times during the entire course of last season. UF Head Coach Rhonda Faehn liked what she saw from the lineup tonight, especially King's rock-solid performance to end the lineup.

"On beam, I was thrilled with the way they performed," she said. "I loved seeing that Marissa just attacked the beam after having an athlete fall. I could see it in her eyes before she went up - she knew she was going to hit and I knew she was going to hit. I had complete confidence in her."

Hunter wowed the O'Connell Center crowd with her spectacular tumbling, as she picked up her second straight floor exercise win with her collegiate-best mark of 9.925. Johnson made her season debut on the event, taking second at 9.85 while junior Randy Stageberg was third with a 9.775.

The Gators were forced to count a fall toward their floor total for the first time since 2008, as the team tallied a 48.525.

Hunter was the only Gator entered in the all-around and she picked up her second straight win with a total of 38.925. Illinois-Chicago's Rachel Montoya was runner-up at 38.65.

The heralded Florida freshmen class was excited to perform for the first time in front of the O'Connell Center crowd. Hunter got involved early, as she joined King in running out with the final two letters for the F-L-O-R-I-D-A flags to start the pre-meet introductions. She is starting to get the feel for collegiate competition and some of those adjustments came through in her floor.

"I showed off my routine more than I did at NC State. My landings were more controlled and I threw my head back (on finishes)," Hunter said. "I just went out there and had fun."

Hunter likes the supportive atmosphere of collegiate competition. "The cheering and going out there and having fun with your team are what I like," Hunter said. "It's not relaxing but it feels great to have a family behind you."

Although the season is only two meets old, Faehn is already looking to keep the Gators fresh throughout the four-month season. Floor is the event where the gymnasts undergo the most pounding so that lineup will often have planned changes in personnel to give gymnasts opportunities to perform and to keep others in the best possible health. Tonight two All-American floor performers - Dickerson and King - did not compete on that event.

"We could easily go out there and compete with our strongest athletes and blow it out, but that's not what we're trying to do," Faehn said. "It's hard, and it's frustrating for the athletes too, but we have to stick with the plan and make sure they are paced. It's early - it's the second meet - so there are going to be falls and mistakes, but it's something we have to learn from," she continued. "We're trying to get everyone out there to gain experience and compete as much as possible."

Meet 3

No. 8 Florida at Kentucky

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Jan. 20, 2012

Memorial Coliseum/Lexington, Ky.

The No. 8 Florida gymnastics team (3-0, 1-0 SEC) upped its season-best total to 196.275 Friday to open its 2012 Southeastern Conference season with the win at Kentucky (2-3, 0-2 SEC) in front of a Memorial Coliseum crowd of 1,697. The Wildcats posted a total of 194.075.

Freshman Kytra Hunter claimed at least a share of four event titles Friday, including collecting her third consecutive all-around crown with a collegiate-best 39.475. The all-around win streak makes her the first Gator since Ashanéé Dickerson in 2010 to open their premiere collegiate season with wins in the first three meets.

A late addition to the all-around, Hunter stepped into the floor exercise lineup after the three-minute touch warm-up when fellow freshman Rachel Spicer was held out of the event due to a sore calf.

"We weren't going to put Kytra in on floor. But one of her teammates was a little sore so Kytra said she could go and just did an awesome job. I'm just really proud of her," UF Head Coach Rhonda Faehn said. "She's very strong mentally as a competitor and she has a lot of experience behind her. She was able to utilize her past experiences to stay focused and aggressive tonight. I think she's getting more comfortable out there on the competition floor and it showed tonight."

Hunter showed that she's getting more comfortable in the collegiate arena right from the Gators' first event. She was one of two Gators to post marks of 9.875 to share the meet's uneven bars title. The bars win was the first for Hunter and first for junior All-American Marissa King since 2010, as she was out of most of UF's bar lineups last year due to a torn pectoral muscle which limited her preseason training. Sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson completed the Gator sweep with her bar mark of 9.85.

Florida opened up the meet with a 49.175 bar set – just a fraction off the season-best set last weekend.

The Gators' season-best vault total went to 49.275 Friday as Florida's final two posted marks of 9.9 or better. Hunter used Florida's season-best of 9.925 to claim her first vault win as a Gator and Dickerson matched her season-best of 9.90 set a week ago to take second. Senior Nicole Ellis finished the Florida sweep of the event with her third consecutive vault score of 9.85.

Florida's King and Dickerson shared the evening's floor exercise win with identical marks of 9.85. Hunter took third at 9.825 as the Gators turned in a floor total of 49.00.

The Gators completed their sweep of the top three spots on each apparatus with their performance on the balance beam. Florida went six-for-six on their final event, led by Hunter's collegiate-best 9.85. Johnson was runner-up at 9.775 while junior Randy Stageberg and Spicer shared third at 9.75. On the event, the Gators tallied a 48.825.

For the second time this season, Florida took the top three spots in the all-around. Dickerson and King shared second at 39.125. That same duo also tied for second in the all-around at the Jan. 6 season opener at North Carolina State.

Faehn liked the mindset the Gators showed Friday. Scoring seemed low at times, but the team stayed focused on the things they could control – their performance and execution.

"I was thrilled. I think they did a really great job right from the start on bars. They were aggressive and we were able to capitalize on so many stuck landings. We carried that momentum over to vault and all the way through. I thought we finished especially strong on beam," Faehn said. "I was pleased with how they stayed aggressive and didn't let anything affect their mind set. There were some really nice improvements from the last two competitions."

Meet 4

No. 8 Florida versus No. T-1 Arkansas,

No.24 Maryland & Bridgeport

Jan. 27, 2012

Stephen C. O'Connell Center/Gainesville, Fla.

Big marks added up to a big team total, as the No. 8 Florida gymnastics team (6-0, 2-0 SEC) used the nation's top score of 2012 to claim its first home win over a top-ranked team in 23 years Friday in front of a Stephen C. O'Connell Center crowd of 6,198.

The Gators used the fifth-highest total in school history of 197.775 to defeat No. T-1 Arkansas (8-1, 2-1 SEC), which posted a total of 196.70. No. 24 Maryland (4-4) was third at 193.075 and Bridgeport (2-4) rounded out the evening's results at 192.975. The previous nation's high of 197.575 was turned in by No. T-1 UCLA last Sunday in Los Angeles.

A nation's top-ranked team has entered the O'Connell Center 16 times and Friday's result is the first time UF claimed the win since taking the 1989 Southeastern Conference title over then No. 1 Alabama.

Florida season-best scores of 9.95 won the evening's uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise event titles. Junior All-American Ashanéé Dickerson picked up her 50th event titles of her outstanding Gator career, as she won her first all-around of the season with a 2012 Gator high of 39.60 and shared the evening's floor exercise crown with freshman Kytra Hunter at 9.95. The 50 event titles ranks seventh all-time among Gator competitors in the program's 40-year history.

Dickerson used collegiate-best marks on floor (9.95) and uneven bars (9.925) plus a season-high 9.90 on beam toward the third-highest all-around total of her Gator career.

"She was on fire tonight. She really just knows where those landings are and that helps her out. She showed off her floor and had the energy of the crowd behind her. I can't say enough about how excited I am about her because she works so hard," UF Head Coach Rhonda Faehn said. "For her to come out and compete the way she did, and win, it can give her confidence that her hard work pays off."

The Gators' uneven bars total of 49.625, which ties for the third-highest in school history, was boosted by five marks of 9.90 or better. Four Gators earned collegiate-best bar marks as the lineup was led off by senior Nicole Ellis' 9.90. Dickerson and fellow junior All-American Marissa King boosted their bars best to 9.925. Sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson also had a season-high 9.925 on the event to also share second on the event. The bars title was won by sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto, who matched her collegiate-best of 9.95 to claim her first win of the season and seventh bar victory as a Gator.

Caquatto, one of only two on the 20-member 2011-12 U.S. Senior National Team competing as a collegiate this season, was sidelined for the first two meets of the year as she further recovered from spraining both ankles in September at the final camp to select the U.S. 2011 World Championships' roster. She made her debut last weekend, performing in the bar lineup at Kentucky. This week she stuck the dismount solid, and Faehn credited her courage to go for the stick.

"I was super proud of (Mackenzie) coming in and winning bars after such adversity, with the double ankle sprain. Last week was her first week on bars and she was very tentative on the landing. I know she's in so much pain, but she still went for that stick. For her to really fight and get it and do as well as she did was wonderful and huge for the team to see Macko is back."

Each of the six scores turned in on beam registered as either season or collegiate-best for the Gators as they equaled the eighth-best balance beam total in school history of 49.475. Three Gators posted marks of 9.9 or better. Dickerson turned in a season-best 9.90 and Johnson upped her collegiate-high to 9.925 to share second overall. King once again anchored the Gator lineup with a collegiate-best mark. She set her collegiate-high of 9.925 with her winning performance on Jan. 13 and raised that mark to 9.95 Friday to take her third beam win of the season.

King, always a top competitor for the Gators as she owns six All-America honors, has been a strong and steady performer in the early goings of the 2012 campaign.

"It shows how much she has matured and the different confidence level she has this season. She trains exactly like she's competing out there. She's more focused and more aggressive in her training, and it's coming out into her competition. I can see it even from the moment she steps out onto the floor," Faehn said. "On every event, she is at a different level. It's nice to be able to see that she has maturity in her gymnastics and has taken ownership of it. She's a leader out there."

The Gators, who trailed Arkansas after the opening rotation, had built a comfortable 0.675 lead over the top-ranked Razorbacks heading into the final rotation. Faehn wanted her team to keep their focus through the entire competition and the team executed that order, as each of the five scores used toward the season-high total of 49.50 were season- or collegiate-best marks.

Florida's final two floor performers ended the evening sharing the event title with collegiate-bests of 9.95. Dickerson was Florida's fifth competitor, matching her collegiate-best of 9.95 for the sixth time of her career. Hunter anchored Florida's floor set, upping her best to 9.95. The floor win is the 16th for Dickerson and the third for Hunter.

The Gators opened the meet with a 49.175 on vault and were led by King's season-best 9.875 on her first Tsukahara one and a half vault of the season. Vault was the only event not won by a Gator as Arkansas' Katherine Grable took the title at 9.90.

Friday's team total was a surprise for Faehn.

"I had no idea what the scores were until they announced it at the end. I was focusing on each and every routine that we were doing and trying to find the little improvements and additions that we were adding here and there," Faehn said. "I was so focused on each and every athlete that I didn't calculate the score. That was really exciting."

"I think this was a great confidence booster for our team," she continued. "They haven't been able to come together as what we would call our 'end lineup' so this was the first opportunity of putting them together. I think they gelled really well and I think the chemistry and the energy was phenomenal. Of course there are areas that we can improve upon, and that's the beauty of it - it's still really early in the season."

Competing with this team is inspiring and performing for the home crowd gives the team a boost, Johnson said. "

"I think that the energy and the excitement started off from the very beginning. All of us were just so excited to be out there and to have another opportunity to compete and just be together. We always have so much fun together whenever we are out on the floor competing and then having a home meet, those are always the best," Johnson said. "We just had a lot of fun out there."

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Meet 5

No. 3 Florida at No. 6 Alabama

Feb. 3, 2012

Coleman Coliseum/Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The No. 3 Florida gymnastics team (6-1, 2-1 SEC) lost its first meet of the season Friday in front of a Coleman Coliseum crowd of 12,457, as defending NCAA champion and No. 6 Alabama (6-0, 3-0 SEC) used the nation's second-highest total of the season of 197.725 to take the win over UF's 196.90.

The nation's top two team totals of the season have been posted in the Gators' last two competitions. Florida set the 2012 national high total of 197.775 last week in its home win over then No. 1 Arkansas, No. 24 Maryland and Bridgeport. Tonight, the Crimson Tide posted the nation's second-highest total of 2012 with their winning tally. \

The Gators come away tonight with a very solid road score, which is needed for seeding for the NCAA championship portion of the season. But UF Head Coach Rhonda Faehn said the little mistakes added up for the Gators tonight.

"It was definitely not our best night. There were areas where we were a little flat or a bit sluggish. We didn't get some of the landings and the team knows that," Faehn said. "They're human and that's normal after coming off such a high from last week." The Gators weren't quite as sharp on their opening rotation, the uneven bars, as a week ago as steps on dismounts dinged their scores. UF posted a team bars total of 49.225. Sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto won the event title for the second consecutive week, this time using a 9.90 to take her eighth bar win of her career. Alaina Johnson shared second on the event with UA's Ashley Priess and Ashley Sledge at 9.875.

The Tide started out big on the opening rotation, posting the nation's leading vault total of 49.60. That total was boosted by big marks from its later portion of the lineup as Diandra Milliner won the event with her first 10.0 on vault, while Marissa Gutierrez was second at 9.95 and senior All-American Geralen Stack-Eaton returned from a week off due to a concussion to post a 9.925.

Florida earned a 49.25 on the vault as steps on the landing hurt their potential score. Freshman Kytra Hunter led UF on the event with her mark of 9.90 while Johnson turned in a 9.875.

On floor exercise, Florida was led by Ashanée Dickerson's 9.875. Hunter also posted a 9.85 and Amy Ferguson opened up the floor set with a 9.825 as the Gators tallied a 49.10 on the event. While the Gators were on floor, the Tide was posting the nation's third-highest balance beam total of 49.425. Three Tide performers earned 9.90 beam marks – Milliner, Sarah DeMeo and Priess.

Faehn challenged her Gators to finish strong when they went to beam for their final event.

"What I loved is the heart they showed on balance beam," Faehn said. "I challenged them on their last event to show their heart and they did just that."

The Gators went six-for-six on their finishing event and turned in its second-highest beam total of the season (49.325). Dickerson used her second-consecutive 9.90 on the event to earn a share of her second beam title of the season and the 10th of her career. Marissa King anchored the beam set with a 9.875 while Randy Stageberg and Johnson each earned 9.85.

Performing in front of a big crowd against one of the nation's top teams is an experience Faehn thinks will help this team later in the season.

"It's going to be a great learning experience for them. We walk away tonight with a really solid road score," Faehn said. "We obviously have things we are going to work on when we get back home and that's fine because we have nowhere to go but up."

Meet 6

No. 4 Florida versus No. 14 LSU

Feb. 10, 2012

Stephen C. O'Connell Center/Gainesville, Fla.

Although they were wearing pink, the No. 4 Florida gymnastics team (7-1, 3-1 SEC) was red-hot Friday night, upping the nation's season-best total to 197.85 to take the win over No. 14 LSU (2-7, 2-3 SEC) in the Sixth Annual Gators Link to Pink, presented by Nationwide. The Tigers also posted a season-best 196.85 to take second.

The Gators' previous season-high of 197.775 in their last home appearance on Jan. 27 held the nation's top position until Florida raised it tonight.

The home win came in front of 8,112 fans—the seventh-largest gymnastics crowd in school history—at the Gators Link to Pink meet in the Stephen C. O'Connell Center. The "pink" meets are part of a SEC initiative to raise awareness about breast cancer and all league team will compete in a pink meet this season. The two teams put aside their school colors and wore pink to show their support in the fight against breast cancer.

Junior All-American Marissa King's post-meet words about the competition could be echoed by anyone on the Gator roster. "It is one of my favorite competitions of the season," King said. "It has a great crowd and is for a great cause."

A Gator claimed at least a share of each event title Friday, including junior All-American Ashanée Dickerson matching Florida's season-best total of 39.60 to give her an even dozen career all-around wins. LSU freshman Loinincia Hall was second at 39.45 while King and LSU freshman Rheagan Courville shared third at 39.40.

Dickerson wasn't pleased with her performance last weekend at defending NCAA champion Alabama and used the week of training to make the needed corrections. Her all-around total this week was a 0.25 improvement from a week ago.

"It was great because I made a few mistakes last week. I was a little disappointed in myself," Dickerson said. "I went in the gym and worked hard on the landings and mistakes that were made."

Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn could see how Dickerson's attention to detail in the past week of training benefited her tonight.

"She is just so calm. She worked really hard this week, especially on her landings and her polish, and I think that it was wonderful to see that in her performance tonight," Faehn said. "She is just continuing to get better."

Dickerson also shared the evening's uneven bars title at 9.90 with three other Gators – sophomores Alaina Johnson and Mackenzie Caquatto as well as King. The bar win was the third consecutive for Caquatto, the third of the season for Johnson, the second for King and the first for Dickerson.

Faehn noted that Caquatto had changed her bar routine for this meet – a routine that is already jammed with difficult skills.

"We changed up her bar routine tonight. Her first release move is called a Pak salto, and it was absolutely gorgeous. It's one of the best performed in the country, I believe," Faehn said. "We wanted to show her variety and she did a great job."

Johnson was also a double event winner Friday, as the All-American opened her competition by matching her collegiate-best of 9.95 to claim her first vault title of the season and the sixth of her career. It was the third time Johnson had earned a 9.95 on her Yurchenko layout with a full twist vault, with the last coming the previous time she wore pink at the Gators Link to Pink on Jan. 28, 2011.

Collegiate-best marks gave Florida freshman Kytra Hunter the evening's balance beam and floor exercise titles. She used a 9.925 to take her second beam win of 2012, as she had posted her previous high of 9.85 in three previous meets.

As the final competitor of the meet, Hunter wowed the crowd with her floor mark of 9.975 to take her fourth win on the event. She is the first Gator freshman – and the fifth in school history – to earn the nearly perfect mark on floor exercise.

Her score finished a strong Florida floor set, as Dickerson was runner-up by matching her collegiate-best of 9.95. King opened her tumbling passes with a double layout for the first time this season, earning a 2012 high of 9.925 to complete the Florida sweep of the top three final floor spots. Junior Randy Stageberg also posted a collegiate-best of 9.90 Friday.

It was the fourth different floor lineup for the Gators this season. Stageberg, who has been in each of the six floor lineups, noted that this team can perform well on the event regardless of slight changes in personnel.

"It's amazing to watch each person and what they can bring to the table, especially having a lot of younger girls on the team. Ashanée (Dickerson) has been a rock for us since freshman year and then Kytra (Hunter) did amazing," Stageberg said. "That's how we work. We work to perform to our best when we compete. It is nice seeing everyone do that."

Florida's floor total of 49.625 leads the nation on the event this season and is just 0.025 away from the school record last matched in 2011.

Last week at Alabama, Faehn thought it was a good, but not great, performance as the team posted a 196.90. Areas that needed sharpening gave the Gators plenty to focus on in this week's training.

"I think we worked really hard all week on making those improvements from last week on our finishes, landings and trying to get stuck landings, but also showing more control with our finishes and our polish. That showed through tonight," Faehn said. "On vault, the finishes were so much cleaner," she continued. "We started out really strong on bars again – five out of the six athletes stuck their dismount, which is really great. On beam, we were aggressive. All of our six athletes hit really great routines. Stepping into floor, what was wonderful was that different athletes came in tonight and made the lineup flow just as well as it flowed with other athletes. It's nice to see that we can make changes and adjustments on the lineup and it doesn't affect the flow or the dynamic of the event."

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Meet 7

No. 2 Florida at No. 17 Auburn

Feb. 17, 2012

Auburn Arena/Auburn, Ala.

The No. 2 Florida gymnastics team (8-1, 4-1 SEC) used the nation's sixth-highest score of the season to finish its Southeastern Conference road schedule with a win at No. 17 Auburn (3-9, 0-5 SEC) Friday in front of an Auburn Arena crowd of 4,626. The Gators posted a 197.50 while the Tigers turned in a season-best 196.875.

There were some changes in the lineup Friday as the Gator coaching staff wanted to give some gymnasts a break and also wanted to see how other routines would score. Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn liked what she saw Friday. "I was very pleased with the team's performance tonight. It was wonderful to see everyone compete so aggressively and confidently especially knowing that we changed up the lineups quite a bit, especially on floor. They all responded really well," Faehn said. "They just did a great job overall."

Only one Gator competed as an all-arounder Friday and that gymnast picked up the win. Florida sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson picked up her first all-around title of 2012 and the fourth of her career with a Gator season-high total of 39.625. That total stands as the second-highest of her career.

Friday's crowd included 14 members of Johnson's family. She performed well for them, just as she did a year ago when a large Johnson cheering section was in the crowd at the Florida-Georgia dual in Athens, Ga. That day, Johnson took the all-around win with her collegiate-best total of 39.675 and tonight's total was just a fraction behind.

"It just felt good that I was able to get out there and do it for my team. It was so much fun. We always have so much fun out there together," Johnson said. "It was another great road meet and I'm just glad we did as well as did."

The Gators opened Friday's meet with a strong set on the uneven bars. Florida was six-for-six for stuck landings (seven-for-seven counting the exhibition performer) as the Gators tallied a 49.40 for their third-highest bars total of the season. Florida's last half of the lineup all turned in marks of 9.90 or better. Sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto picked up a share of her fourth consecutive bar win with her mark of 9.925. Auburn's Ilyson Sandusky and Kylie Shields also shared the bar title at 9.925. Marissa King and Alaina Johnson also posted 9.90s.

On vault, the Gators turned in a season-best 49.575, which also stands as the second-highest vault total in school history. Four Gators posted marks of 9.90 or better, led by collegiate-best mark of 9.95 from UF's final two vaulters Johnson and Kytra Hunter. The vault win is the second consecutive for Johnson and the second of the season for Hunter. Junior Ashanee Dickerson took third with her season-best 9.925 while Nicole Ellis also turned in a season-best of 9.90.

Florida's floor lineup had some new faces as the Gator coaches decided to hold out a pair of floor All-Americans - Dickerson and King - as well as Hunter (currently ranked No. 3 nationally on floor) to give them a well-deserved break from the pounding of the event. The Gators turned in a 49.05 and were led by Johnson's 9.875 which tied for second overall with AU's Toi Garcia. Senior Amy Ferguson opened up the floor set with a 9.85. The evening's floor title was claimed by AU's Brianna Guy at 9.90.

Floor wasn't as clean as the team had wanted, with an out-of-bounds and some steps on landings holding the score back. Faehn challenged the Gators to finish the meet strong on their next event, the balance beam. "After we finished floor, I told them that's not how I wanted them to finish the meet. They were challenged to go over to the balance beam and attack that event so we can finish on an extremely high note," Faehn said. "It was nice to see how they remained calm, yet competed aggressively, and were able to finish strong."

With the challenge from Faehn to finish the meet strong, the Gators did just that as the team matched their season-best total of 49.475. That total ties for the eighth-best in school history and matches the team's season high on beam. King anchored the set by matching her collegiate-best of 9.95 for the second time this season. The mark gave King her fourth beam win of 2012 and she shared the title with AU's Guy. Johnson turned in her second consecutive 9.90 for beam Friday to take third.

Meet 8

No. 1 Florida versus No. T-3 Georgia

Feb. 24, 2012

Stephen C. O'Connell Center/Gainesville, Fla.

The No. 1 Florida gymnastics team (9-1, 5-1 SEC) finished its Southeastern Conference regular-season schedule with a 197.525-196.825 win over No. T-3 Georgia (5-3, 4-2 SEC) Friday in front of a Stephen C. O'Connell Center crowd of 6,134.

As the pre-meet rankings showed, Friday's meet was sure to be a tight competition and the action in the O'Connell Center Friday lived up to those expectations.

The Gators led the meet after each rotation and headed into the final event with a lead of 0.525 - a margin that clearly showed the win was still uncertain. Three consecutive out-of-bounds deductions of a tenth each on three Florida floor performers put the focus clearly on the Gators' final two competitors to hit cleanly and to hit big.

The pair produced on both counts.

Junior All-American Ashanee Dickerson put up a 9.925 and freshman Kytra Hunter anchored the lineup with 9.95 to take her fifth floor win of the season. Their performances led the Gators to their final total which stands as the nation's eighth-highest of the season and gave Florida just its second dual meet win in the O'Connell Center since 1990 over the perennial power Gym Dogs. Florida also won in 2010 in Georgia's last visit to Gainesville for the first victory in 10 home duals between the two SEC teams.

Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn was surprised by the step-outs, but couldn't fault the effort shown her team. "Going out of bounds three times on floor was a little bit shocking, but I've always told them that if they're going to make a mistake, I want it to be made going 100 percent full-throttle, and that's what they were doing," Faehn said. "They were so hyped up and energized that the mistake came from that. I don't want them to make mistakes by holding back. That's a minor thing, but it was surprising that it was three in a row."

Hunter also took the evening's all-around and vault titles with Gator season-best scores. Her 39.675 pushed her season all-around wins tally to four and the total equals the nation's third-best all-around total of 2012 (Arkansas' Katherine Grable and Jaime Pisani share the nation's high of 39.725).

She equaled her collegiate-best of 9.95 for the second consecutive meet for her third vault win of the season. Dickerson and sophomore Alaina Johnson shared second on vault at 9.90 with UGA sophomore Cat Hires.

Faehn spoke about the freshman's presence of mind, which saved the Gators from taking a fourth step-out deduction. "She's amazing. I can't say enough about how incredible she is, not just as a talented athlete but as a strong mental competitor," Faehn said. "Kytra could have easily stepped out of bounds on that first pass but there was no way she was going to do that."

The other event titles were picked up by junior All-American Marissa King. King's 9.925 helped the Gators post a 49.40 on bars - their third consecutive bar total on the event of 49.40 or better. King's win was her second of the season. Johnson was runner-up on bars at 9.90 and Dickerson shared third at 9.875 with UGA's Noel Couch and Chelsea Davis.

King anchored the Gators balance beam set by matching her collegiate-best mark of 9.95 for the third time this season. She also had a 9.95 last Friday at Auburn and tonight's win is her fifth of 2012.

The energy of the team and of the crowd sporting the blinking slotted shades that was tonight's giveaway buoyed King Friday. "We had a lot of energy tonight. As soon as we ran out of the tunnel it was wicked with flashing lights from the sunglasses, and we had a great crowd come out tonight to support us. I love to compete at home. It is just so awesome every time. It is really fun performing in front of a great responding crowd and that is what we had tonight."

Hunter equaled her beam best with her runner-up mark of 9.925. Dickerson shared third at 9.90 with UGA sophomore Kaylan Earls. As a team, UF turned in its third-best beam total of 2012 at 49.45. All six all-around competitors tonight posted totals of 39.40 or better. Dickerson was runner-up at 39.575 and King shared third with Georgia senior Kat Ding at 39.45.

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Meet 9

No. 1 Florida at No. 6 Nebraska

March 4, 2012

Bob Devaney Center/Lincoln, Neb.

The No. 1 Florida gymnastics team (10-1, 5-1 SEC) finished its regular-season road schedule with a come-from-behind win at No. 6 Nebraska (10-2, 2-0 Big 10) Sunday afternoon in front of a Bob Devaney Center crowd of 2,472. The Gators took the win with a total of 196.95 and Nebraska posted a final total of 196.825.

Nebraska led the meet through each of the first three rotations and owned a slender 0.05 lead as the Cornhuskers headed to the floor exercise for their final event.

Florida rotated to balance beam and knew that the score was tight. Adding to the pressure was an uncharacteristic beam miss by freshman Rachel Spicer, putting the focus squarely on the team's final four performers to hit to give Florida a chance at the meet's team title.

One after another, the final four turned in steady and solid performances. All-Americans Alaina Johnson and Ashanée Dickerson each turned in marks of 9.85 and freshman Kytra Hunter posted a 9.875. Junior All-American Marissa King anchored the beam set with a 9.925 - matching meet's highest mark of the day - for her third consecutive beam win and sixth of the season.

King admits she knew the situation the team was facing before it was her time to perform. Dickerson's words before her beam set helped get her focus exactly where it needed to be.

"I had noticed Spicer's score before I went up," King said. "Ashanée came up to me after her routine and she really gave me some strong words, telling me to 'not hold back, go big and you've got this'. That really helped. So I went up there and did my routine how I know I can do it."

Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn liked how the team responded to the challenges they faced on the last event.

"I think it was a really great situation. I tell them constantly to focus on what we need to do to perform at our absolute best. When we were going into beam, I challenged them to show the passion and the fight and to attack that last event," Faehn said. "They responded tremendously well. They fought for every little thing and we had a lot of stuck landings. I was really pleased with how they came through with the win on the last event."

The Gators started the meet with an uneven bars set which saw the team's score hurt by missed handstands and small steps on landings, resulting in a 49.225 total. Marks of 9.875 by three Gators - Nicole Ellis, Mackenzie Caquatto and Johnson - led Florida on the event to share third overall. Janelle Giblin and Lora Everstad anchored the Cornhusker's bar lineup with a pair of 9.925s to share the day's event title.

The Gators matched their top event total of the day, 49.325, on the vault. Gator All-Americans Ashanée Dickerson and Alaina Johnson shared the day's vault title at 9.90 with Nebraska's Jamie Schuppenbach and Jessie DeZiel. Spicer led off the Gators' vault set with a collegiate-best 9.875.

Floor was a low scoring event for both teams Sunday. Florida posted a 49.075 on the event as only four Gators turned in marks of 9.80 or above. Junior Randy Stageberg and Hunter led the Gators with their floor marks of 9.85, which shared third overall. Floor was won by DeZiel and Emily Wong at 9.875.

DeZiel and Wong also shared the all-around title at 39.45. Florida's Hunter was third at 39.375.

Sunday's meet was a double-dual, as the No. 10 Nebraska men's team played host to Arizona State. There was something always happening on the competition floor, which is much like the atmosphere the Gators will face at the Southeastern Conference Championships' later this month. Faehn thinks it was a great learning experience for Florida.

"I think we did a good job. It certainly wasn't one of our best competitions, but they showed a lot of passion and a lot of fight, especially coming around on the last event. So I'm really proud of how they did under the circumstances," Faehn said. "It was a different environment with so much going on. It tested them and I think they will grow stronger and get better from it."

Meet 10

No. 1 Florida versus No. 7 Utah

March 16, 2012

Stephen C. O'Connell Center/Gainesville, Fla.

The No. 1 Florida gymnastics team (11-1, 5-1 SEC) used the nation's second-highest total of 2012 to finish its regular-season schedule with a win versus No. 7 Utah (7-3, 3-1 Pac 12) Friday evening in front of a Stephen C. O'Connell Center crowd of 5,762. The Gators posted a 197.90, which also stands as the fourth-highest in school history, and the Utes finished with a 196.475.

Florida's score is second only this season to the 198.05 turned in by UCLA on Feb. 26.

The all-around performances Friday of three Gator All-Americans rank among the nation's best of the season. Sophomore Alaina Johnson equaled her collegiate-best of 39.675 to take her second win of the season. Also turning in a collegiate-best was junior Marissa King, who was second 39.65. Fellow junior Ashanée Dickerson was third with her season-best total of 39.625.

Johnson's total matches the nation's third-highest of the season, while King's checks in at the No. 6 spot and Dickerson's holds the No. 7 position. It was the first time in Florida history that three Gator gymnasts posted all-around totals of 39.625 or above in the same meet.

The win was the fifth of Johnson's Gator career. Florida Head Coach Rhonda Faehn likes the variety shown by the team's all-arounders.

"It just shows Alaina is an absolutely beautiful gymnast. On any given day, she can challenge to win any title on any event for any meet. She performs with such great execution and her lines and overall appearance is really pleasing to the eye. That is an advantage for her," Faehn said. "Marissa, Kytra (Hunter) and Ashanée are powerful and dynamic, while Alaina is more of the finesse and the grace. It's a really nice balance. On any given day, any one of those athletes can really challenge for the win, but it was Alaina's night tonight."

Big marks on each event led to the Gators taking at least a share of every apparatus title Friday. The depth of this team was shown as Gators paired up to share three of the event titles and all were won with marks of 9.90 or higher.

Johnson shared her fourth vault title of the season with Utah's Kailah Delaney and Georgia Dabritz at 9.90. Johnson and Dickerson both posted uneven bars marks of 9.95 to tie for that event title. The mark was a collegiate-best for Dickerson and equals Johnson's season-best. It was the 10th bars win for Johnson in her career and the fourth for Dickerson.

Johnson and King shared the balance beam title at 9.925. The mark equals Johnson's collegiate-best and the score gives King her seventh win on the event this season. Six of King's 10 beam performances in 2012 have yielded marks of 9.925 or above.

Florida matched the sixth-highest floor total in school history of 49.60 to finish the meet. Florida's final four performers - Johnson, Dickerson, King and Kytra Hunter - all turned in marks of 9.90 or above. Both King and Hunter opened their routines with double-layouts and shared the floor win at 9.95. Dickerson was third at 9.925.

The Gators started the meet slow on vault, but Faehn liked how the Gators didn't let that event impact their later performances. But vault landings will be something the team will focus on in its preparations for the March 24 Southeastern Conference Championships.

"Starting out on vault, I wasn't pleased because we didn't stick one landing, so that made me upset. That being said, they didn't carry it over to bars and just attacked the landings there, and the same goes for beam and floor. We finally really put it all together on the floor," she said. "We made improvements, but if it was the week off that we had where we hadn't really focused on landings, that showed tonight. That's something positive for us to work on heading into SECs, and something to get better on."

Friday was Senior Night and the careers of the Gators' Nicole Ellis, Amy Ferguson and Elizabeth Mahlich, along with student coach Kailey Tissue, were celebrated in a post-meet ceremony. Performing in front of the O'Connell Center fans for a final time was a moment Ellis and Ferguson took in.

"I think for the first time I really paid attention to what was going on around me because usually you're so nervous. You're so focused on what you're doing that you don't even hear the crowd or people cheering," Ferguson said. "I think this time I really just stood there and took it all in. I really soaked in every minute of it. It's something that I will never forget."

Ellis, who held her stuck bars dismount a bit longer than normal, echoed Ferguson's sentiments.

"I was telling myself to soak it up because this is a once-in-a-lifetime experience - being a college athlete - and it being the last meet, I just wanted to take everything in and enjoy every last second of it," Ellis said.

King said the seniors will be missed next season.

"They are such a great tribute to the team. I know coming in as a freshman I didn't know very much about college and they were the ones helping me get through that," King said. "They bring such positivity to the team. Every little aspect they do is what makes our team today and gets us our results this season. I'm really going to miss having them there in the gym with us every day."

Gator Gymnastics Meet Notes

Meet 11 No. 1 Florida at SEC Championships March 24, 2012 The Arena at Gwinnett Center/Duluth, Ga.

The No. 1 University of Florida gymnastics team (17-1, 5-1 SEC) claimed its second Southeastern Conference title in three years in front of 7,170 at The Arena at Gwinnett Center.

The Gators posted a 197.15 to take the program's eighth overall league crown. Defending meet and NCAA champion Alabama was second at 196.775, followed by Georgia (196.575), LSU (196.425), Kentucky (194.35), Arkansas (194.175) and Auburn (194.10).

Florida drew balance beam for its opening event, which is often considered a difficult road to a championship as it is sometimes difficult for the gymnasts to temper their adrenaline so early in a meet for an event which requires such exact precision. And history wasn't in the Gators favor as no team has won the league crown starting on beam since Georgia in 1994.

But although it wasn't their best beam performance of the season, it proved to be the best of the evening on the event. The Gators' team tally of 49.05 matched Georgia for Saturday's high beam total. No falls were registered, but wobbles and missed connections dinged the Gators potential total. Top scorers for the Gators came from their final two performers, as Marissa King posted a 9.85 to share third overall and Kytra Hunter was runner-up with her 9.875.

Florida's Rhonda Faehn, who was named the SEC Co-Coach of the Year Saturday, liked the fight shown on beam Saturday. "Of course, on the first event, I thought we were just a little bit shaky on beam. It is like that when you start on beam because it is a challenging event," Faehn said. "I was really pleased with how the athletes stayed aggressive and strong and didn't let it affect their emotional state."

Florida turned in a 49.20 on floor exercise, as their score was held back by a few tumbling passes that didn't quite show control on the landing. Hunter anchored the lineup with a team-high 9.90 – her seventh floor mark of 9.9 or better of her 10 floor performances. She tied for second overall in the final floor standings.

Vault is what separated the Gators from the field. The team posted a 49.525 - the high total of any event by any team. It is the highest team total ever by a Gator team in SEC Championships' competition. Four Gators finished among the meet's top four on the event, including Hunter's winning mark of 9.975. King used a season-best 9.925 to share second while Ashanée Dickerson and Alaina Johnson tied for fourth at 9.90.

Faehn credited her team for not letting the tenths left on the floor exercise mat color the Gators' vault performance. "What I loved was that our athletes came back and were lights out on vault," Faehn said. "We turned in our best vault performance of the season. I think that really energized our team and they hung tough."

The two teams closest to Florida – Alabama and Georgia - finished on the sixth rotation and simple subtraction showed the Gators needed anything above a 49.0 to take the title over Alabama. Florida, the nation's top-ranked team on bars, finished with a meet-high total of 49.375 on the event. Four Gators finished among the meet's top five on the event. Mackenzie Caquatto shared second at 9.90 while Hunter and Nicole Ellis shared fifth at 9.875.

Johnson, as Florida's final performer of the meet, claimed the bars title with her mark of 9.925. She is the first Gator to win bars since Melanie Sinclair shared the 2008 title. She said she was confident in her team's performance on bars.

"I knew ending on bars was good because that was a strong event for us. I'm glad that we ended well. Of course, there were a few landings that we didn't get but everyone had each other's back," Johnson said. "I was just proud that I was able to nail it for the team so we could finish off strong."

Hunter, the SEC Freshman of the Year, picked up the all-around title at 39.625. She is the first Gator to claim the all-around win since Kristen Guise in 1995 and is the first Gator freshman to take the win since Elfi Schlegel in 1983. King was fourth in the all-around at 39.425 while Johnson was right behind her in fifth at 39.40.

King said the Gators are excited to bring the trophy back to Gainesville, but she knows this team isn't satisfied. "Funny thing is that we made quite a few mistakes today. We'll go back and evaluate the film and work on making things better," King said. "We are happy that we won SECs but we know this isn't the end."

Meet 12 No. 1 Florida at NCAA Raleigh Regional April 7, 2012 Reynolds Coliseum/Raleigh, N.C.

It's on to the NCAA Championships for the No. 1 University of Florida gymnastics team after claiming the Raleigh Regional meet title Saturday evening in front of 2,265 at the Reynolds Coliseum on North Carolina State's campus. The NCAA Championships are set for April 20-22 at The Arena at Gwinnett Center in Duluth, Ga., and Florida will be the top seed.

This will be 30th national championships appearance for the Gators, missing only the 2000 meet in the 31-year history of the NCAA Gymnastics Championships.

The Gators posted a 197.325 Saturday to bring the program's total number of regional wins to an even dozen. Ohio State was second at 196.225 to claim the other NCAA Championships' berth, which will be the Buckeyes first national championship appearance since 1990. NC State was third at 195.975, followed by Penn State (195.65), North Carolina (194.025) and Kent State (193.575).

At the Southeastern Conference Championships, the Gators won the title, but there were some areas that needed some polishing as the team continued in the championship portion of their season. Florida coach Rhonda Faehn liked that her team showed some improvements, but also acknowledged there are still some areas that will be focused on in the upcoming training sessions.

"I think our main focus was just coming in here to compete aggressively and to correct the problems we had at SECs. I think we accomplished that," Faehn said. "I'm happy with the results and the way the team carried themselves and performed and I'm happy that we have some things to work on when we get home."

Four of the meet's top six all-arounders were Gators. Junior All-American Ashanée Dickerson used her season-best total of 39.65 to claim her third all-around title of 2012. It is also her second regional all-around win, as she used her collegiate-best total of 39.70 to take the NCAA North Central title in 2010.

Sophomore All-American Alaina Johnson was second at 39.55, while junior All-American Marissa King was fourth at 39.325 and freshman Kytra Hunter took sixth at 39.25.

At least a share of each of the four event titles went to a Gator. Dickerson shared the vault title with Johnson as each turned in collegiate-best marks of 9.95. It is the fifth time for each to post a 9.95 on vault. Hunter also turned in a 9.90 to tie for fourth on the event.

Dickerson and Johnson again combined to share the uneven bars title, as they each posted a 9.90 on the event in Florida's opening rotation. They shared the event title with NC State's Rachel Finckham. The win pushes Johnson's career total of bar titles to 12 while Dickerson earns her third of the season. Sophomore Mackenzie Caquatto shared fourth overall at 9.85.

King anchored the Gators' balance beam lineup with her winning mark of 9.925 – her sixth beam mark of 9.925 or higher in the last eight meets. It was her eighth beam win of 2012 and the 10th of her career. Dickerson was second at 9.90 while Johnson and junior Randy Stageberg were among a five-way tie for third at 9.85.

Hunter used a 9.95 to pick up her seventh title of the season on the event. It was her fifth floor exercise mark of 9.95 or higher this season. Dickerson was second at 9.90, while Johnson was among a four-way tie for third at 9.85.

Uneven bars was the starting event for the top-seeded team at each of the nation's six regional sites. Faehn like the way the Gators opened competition on that event and carried that focus throughout the meet.

"I'm really pleased. They did a great job starting out aggressively on bars. We were able to stick three of the landings and carry that energy and momentum to the beam," she said. "Beam I thought was lights out. We had two wobbly routines but the other four were magnificent. So that helped keep the energy up."

"We had a few little things on floor, like going out of bounds. We were happy to see some of the things improved upon from SECs. Alaina landed her last pass so much better. Marissa, even though she went out of bounds on her first pass, she corrected her second and third pass. Ashanée was just on fire tonight. She nailed her passes and hit the last one without even a lunge," she said. "Vault was a wonderful way to finish. Tonight and probably SECs were our best vault sets of the season."

For Dickerson, she pointed to a key factor present tonight that seems to be a boost for this team's performances.

"We had a lot fun with each other," Dickerson said. "I think that helped us perform to the best of our ability tonight."
